Starlight Children's Foundation (Starlight) is hosting its annual Christmas Party in the Starlight Express Room at The Royal Children's Hospital on Thursday 12th December, where sick kids and teens can enjoy an afternoon of festive fun with Captain Starlight and special guests.

Featuring a Captain Starlight pantomime and visits from the Lego Masters cast members, singer and Starbassador Alex Rose, children's entertainers Bethany Fisher, Helly Hoops and a photobooth to capture all the fun, it will be a day to remember for sick kids and their families spending the holiday season in hospital.

Serious illness and hospitalisation can steal the joy of childhood. That's where Starlight steps in, to give happiness to sick kids when they need it most.

This December, over 44,000 sick kids are expected to be admitted to children's hospitals nationally.

At The Royal Children's Hospital alone, Starlight will deliver over 4000 positive Starlight experiences for sick kids during the festive season, through Starlight Express Room visits and Captain Starlight 'Rocket Rounds' for kids too sick to leave their ward beds.

Captain Starlight also travels to hospitals across Victoria, visiting over 130 children every month.

Captain Starlights are professional performers who use their skills in comedy, acting, music and art to entertain sick kids. While health professionals focus on treating illness, Captain Starlight delivers positive healthcare promotion that helps to prevent illness and improve wellbeing.

Starlight is the broadest reaching children's charity in Australia, with a Starlight Express Room in every major children's hospital nationally.

Starlight relies on the community for support. Every $39 will provide a sick child with access to its vital hospital services, and keep programs running seven days a week.

Starlight is hoping to raise $741 000 to help give happiness to sick kids during the festive season.
